THE letter of Bishop Bondon published in our issue of Wednesday deals with a question of great importance. The ecclesiastical let January to the 30th June was 13,662,630 lbs. grants are to be withdrawn, and the members of the Church of England will themselves have to make provision for the during the six months of this year to Australia. maintenance of their services, in the same way as the members of other denominations have. This argument was so absurd that we can only wonder it was ever put forward, but now that the matter has been settled, and it has been decided that the prietors of the Melbourne Age, Mesers. D. Syme a rage, demanded her pay, and raised a great community, after the cessation of the present incumbency, will have to-maintain its own services, it is possible to approach the question in a serious spirit and consider how this is to be accomplished. Whether the Bishop's views on the Subbiturian question and similar matters be endorsed or no there can be little difference of opinion as to the desirability of efficiently maintaining religious services by the voluntary contributions of those who attend them or sympathise with them. The Cathedral's income from the rent of sittings and on account of its use by the troops amounts. in round numbers to $2,000, while donations and the contributions from the offertory and can alone offer him an outlet beyond fond amount to less than another thousand, the total income just comfortably co- of Burmah, as Italy has already done, and giving vering the current expenses, exclusive of the Chaplain's stipend. THE SILVER MINES AT JEHOLE.

TIENTSIN. 18th July. News has reached this place from the silver One of the batch of English constables brought soon have further particulars and details, not have been lost for ever. The emphonious name of the present position of affairs in Central Asia. replaced that of plain Yen Tung Shan, and shares for the high-sounding mine were solicited and obtained from the over credulous public of Shaughai, A few months ago Tls. 10,000 worth of builion came down from the mines to Tientsin. and were deposited in the Hongkong and Shingbai Bank here amidet great estentation and elat and the admiring ai-yah! of the gaping natives. As soon as news of this arrived in Shanghai shares went up to 100 per cent, and even 200 per cent, of their original value. But what will the shareholders say, whon they know that the bal. lion was nothing but the melted substance of Tls. 10,000 of sycae taken up to the mines by the crafty Li Chiang-chiae and his coadjutor Cho, and then brought down to Tientsia to serve as a bait and advertisement to the public of Tientsin and Shanghai? Yet such, I grieve to say, was the case. Now we all know that Jahole is a special place set spart for the delectation of the Ta Tsing Em. perors of China, and from the known hatred by which all outsiders are regarded by that House. one need not be surprised to learn that foreigners cannot expect to breathe the air in so should a portion of the Empire without the risk of insurring a regular "kick out" by the Chinese or rather Manchu officials stationed there. When, however, these two men Liand Chu settled down at Yen Tang Shan, they bethought themselves that to be encosseful in their enterprize, they must use foreign machinery; and who so netural to foreign machinery as a foreigner hinself ? But to employ foreigners, these must be housed, and for this a foreign house was necessary, as at the Kniping coal mines. So reasoned these two worthies, and with them to plan was to not. Consequently, having sounded the Tu-t'ung or Military Governor of Jehole and his subordinate the Jehole Tao-t'ai, upon the subject, Mesars, Tuting and Tao-tial replied that although against the principles of the Ta Tsing Empire to admit yung-kusi-tiz within the sacred precincts, still as they had an idea their lease of office was soon to terminate, and there was yet a corner in their strong-box which looked rather vanant and 'lonesome" as a Yankee would say, —if Lland Chu would just fill that " vacancy" while Messra. Now that Sir Daniel Lysons' command at Aldershot is drawing to a close (remarks the Army and Navy Guelle), it is permissible to say that he has been very unfortunate during the past three years is not having had the opportunity for instruction or of managaring on an extended scale which his predscessors enjoyed for no inconsiderable period about half a dozen skeleton battalions, adepot or two of turbulent boys with boy non-commissioned officers, a con ple of very weak carely regiments, a field battery or two and some departmental details, have formed the whole of the Alteranet command. During recent years it has been quite evident at Alder shot that our presentarmy system is unsound, and our regiments and eteriorating despite the statements of the smy reformers to the contrary. Occasionally a strong regiment of tolerably well-set-up and soldierly-looking men has arrived at the station; but it has not long remained in such a condition, for the work o disintegration has some commenced, and in a lew abort months the regiment has been reduced to a shadow of its former self. By the rules of the service, Bir Danel Lysons' period of som-mand would terminate on July 31, just in the middle of the drill season. This would be a most unsuitable time for handing over the command to his successor, whoever he may be, and on this second it is not improbable that Sir Daniel will continue in command for a short period beyond that date.

IMPURIAL QUARTO. IN NGLISH AND CHINES! DICTIONARY WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION.

An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong, For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivedled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extense. Elach and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises | THE Steamship for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given. THE CHRONICLE AND DIRECTORY | the accents being carefully marked on the best displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, schieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications.

To Illustrate the vast scope of the work, the following facts are submitted for consideration :-Chalmers Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English FIHE Steamship and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst Map of THE COWN AND ENVIRONS OF this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese charge. Captain Cotter, will be despatched on or about Captain Allison, will be despatched as above tors. Again, despite all the grammars and the 25th instant. other elementary works as yet published, the This vessel has unusually good Cabin Accom-THOUSAND pages of printed matter. It is in- student of this difficult language absolutely re- modation, situated amidships, upon the upper dispensable in every Mercantile Office in the quires examples to display the various appli- deck cations and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands Huglish to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to al Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested
